“ I remember Basil as a school girl, and friend of his sister, Ramona. Basil had children by then and always took them to church. I was closer to his brother's, Jerry and Willie, as they still lived in the home with their mother, Katherine. I've enjoyed staying in "facebook touch" with Basil and Donnie. I am so sad to hear of Basils passing but I know he was relieved in the loving arms of Jesus. You were a good man, Basil, and everyone will miss you. Life is so short.

“ Basil was one of the few remaining family members on my mother's side that kept in touch with me on a regular basis. His commitment to family, and friends were a trademark of his nature. Others around him could easily recognize his kind heart. Basil was a hard-working businessman all his life. He took pride in his home and along with the help of Donnie made sure it was always beautiful. One of my very first cars that I owned was a Volkswagen and he would always give me some maintenance tips to help keep my car in tip-top shape. I will miss his distinctive southern, Georgia accent. You're at peace and rest, no more pain Basil. Love to you Donnie, and all the rest of the family. Say hello to Aunt Ila Dean, when you get a chance to see her!!

“ Since their first day at OPC we clicked and started spending time with Basil and Donnie as much as possible. Our friendship grew as time went on and they became a special part of our family. I always made sure I got my hug from Basil at every service. Will miss me but cherish the times we had together. Pat and Chuck Hemphill
