“Big Jeff “ as I affectionately used to call him(before his health caught up with him). If you knew him well then you know he was one of the “gentle giants!” Not only in stature but his heart also! He was always ready to help. If he couldn't get it done then he knew someone who could. I met him in the mid 90's when he came to work with me on his off days from Crayex. No matter what I needed him to do,if he said he had it, then I could forget it,because HE HAD IT! In no time at all he became a great friend, one of the best! He loved his family and loved to talk about them. I think the world of them too. You rest up big boy because when my crippled self gets up there it's me and you racing down those streets of gold!

“ I remember him from when we kids. He lived on 15th st. for a short period and I think our parents were friends. Sad news for all. I have thought of Jeff from time to time and wondered whatever happened to him.

“ There was many Saturday nights hanging out at the Polk house, camping trips and anything else our parents got into. Life seperates family but it doesn't mean we don't think about them and have great memories (like chasing me around the house with the chicken's feet from that night's dinner). There is no more pain cousin and you are walking the streets of heaven with joy. I pray you find peace in God's word and your memories. Love you all!

“ Boy, Jeff and I dug a lot of holes for shrubs, cleaned a lot of job sites and did everything else that Jim needed us to do. We picked at each other too much and made each other laugh ALOT! He was such a good and true friend. I love the family so much and I can promise that I will take extra good care of his grandchildren while in my care each day.
