“ Neil and I were coworkers in the Operations and Training Department, Atlanta Public Schools AJROTC. He shared his knowledge and expertise with all whom he came in contact with including myself. As his supervisor, he and I consulted, planned and completed the tasks assigned to us by our superiors to include the Superintendent of Atlanta Public Schools.

His guidance and support aided me, long after his retirement. I thank God that he placed him in my pathway as I traveled this journey of life.

Neil, you have now “Stacked Arms”, “Broke Ranks” and “Uncovered” for the final time, so “RIP” my good friend.

It was my privilege to meet Neil several years ago through my work. I came to know him as a gentle man who served with honor and distinction at every post to which he was called. He will be missed by all who knew him. My prayers are with his family.
