“ Russell called me his oldest customer as I was one of the first after opening his stand! I will truly missed him and his prayers over my loved ones. Russell was the best along with his fruits and vegetable!

“ My grandmother loved going to the stand to see "that man with the best cantaloupes, who loves to pray for me". Russell referred to her as granny. After her passing my Mother and I continued to go see Russell. My mother was diagnosed with cancer and Russell always had a prayer & a hug for the lady he would refer to as Mama. After her passing, I would still go by and see my buddy for veggies, a good talk & yes, his precious prayer. What a heartbreak and loss for our community. Russell is loved by so many and will be missed very much. Thank you for being you, Russell Murphy!

“ Wilma and I knew Russell for only 4-5 years. He was a man of deep faith and he would talk with us about her cancer and his physical issues. His Shabbat Christian Faith was present no matter how bad he felt. His prayers with us for her healing were most precious and faith based. I loved to take Sam(Our Brindled Black Mouth Curr) and just go sit and talk with him. Russell was a man whose glass was always at least half-full. From a very rough youth, he became a man of God. His food was awesome as well. Old Doug Hollberg

“ Russell was indeed a generous friend. While Wayne Graddy was well he enjoyed going by and having a cold soda with Russell and then coming home with bags of produce. Blessings on his family as they go through this difficult time.

“ First, we want to send our condolences to the family. We love and thought so much of Russell. He was a great friend. So many good memories. We remember the first fishing trip Danny took with Russell to the trout fishing river. Danny said Russell was so excited that he jumped out of the truck before it even stopped and then he stepped into the river not realizing that was the deep part and all Danny could see was the top of his head. He loved trout fishing ever since that day. The girls remember the cookouts and swimming pool and how Russell always spoke to them every time we were at their house. And how every time we went by the produce stand he was always so friendly and a lot of times we ended up with extra produce because Russell was so generous. There's Great Rejoicing in the Heavenly Realm!

Love,
Danny and Kim Howell and Family
