“ *Sandy, I sure miss you. I'm so sorry I couldn't be there today. But you know how I feel. I'm praying I've got strength tomorrow to say I'll see you soon, when my time comes.
You and I had great time cooking Thanksgiving, I still can't do gravy like you.
The boys miss Aunt Scooby. RIP sis, love you, run free with no pain. Watch over us and I'll see you again.
Love you girl!!!

“ Well it would usually be me that would share something last or at least a week late. I want you to know that you became a very important part of my life and I will be forever grateful to you for everything you did for me .Although 4 years seems long it was not long enough. I have been here throughout this journey with you and I would not have had it any other way.

We have laughed we have cried we have even exchanged words that we later laughed about. You and I had a lot in common from shoes to purses but our styles were total opposite. You made sure when Ethan was sick that you called everyday to check on us and that means more than you know. I made you a promise and I will hold true to my word. Thank you for treating me like one of your own .I love you MOM and you will never be forgotten.

FLY HIGH SANDY. YOU EARNED YOUR WINGS. YOUR BATTLE IS OVER AND YOUR AT PEACE
