“ I grew up about a block from Tommy in the Northside neighborhood, a year behind him in school. We crossed paths quite a bit. I just remember he was a pretty cool mellow person. Really good baseball, basketball, whatever, just a good athlete. When he was 10 or 12 he had a really nice Wilson glove that he had oiled and broken in meticulously. He took such good care of it. I remember it to this day. It spoke to who he was. In his later years with his physical trials and tribulations he always had a smile and never complained. He supported his racing friends and I am proud to say I knew him.

I met Tommy as a Mutual Agent, in another insurance office, and He had always been a Straight Up Guy. We shared Stories, and He enjoyed Life! R.I.P. My Friend!

“ I remember Tommy coming over hanging out with our family when I was growing up. He used to love to come play with dad’s model train set he had. I’m sure he had a great time with Dad, Keith Pelt and James Harris. RIP Tommy. No more pain. ❤️❤️❤️
