He enjoyed his friends and Moose Lodge Families and enjoyed dancing to the beat of any music he heard. In his later years, he enjoyed once again having his own garden and plowing the land even though he grew up working hard in the fields and crops for his father and Lanier Johnson.

“ Rayford was such a loving and caring man to almost everyone he met.. I don't know what we would have done without him, while my dad and mom were in hospice at home.. He was pleasure to have as a neighbor.

I worked side by side with Rayford for over 15 years at Gold Kist. I considered him a great friend and co-worker. He was more like a brother to me. He would do anything to help anyone. He will be missed. Prayers for family and friends. Lorice Harrison “ Since we all grew up together, he was like a brother. Just like a brother he held nothing back and said exactly what he thought! Prayers for all the family and friends.

“ For most of the 50 years I knew him, if he had on a shirt at all, it had his name on it and it was probably completely unbuttoned if he wasn't at work. He put as much effort into relaxing and having fun as he did working. He said what he felt and didn't care what people thought of him, even though most who knew him loved him. One of the last of the old gang. Love you, Cousin Rayford.
